

Connecticut Western News.

Job Printing Establishment

Is thoroughly equipped for doing all kinds of Job Printing, such as Bill-heads, Stationery, Note-books, Envelopes, Cards, Tags, Programmes, Dodgers, Posters, Circulars, Milk Tickets, Invitations, Etc., in any style and at the lowest prices.

ADVERTISING RATES:

Schedule of Advertising rates furnished on application at this office.

Simple notice of Births, Marriage or Death are inserted free of charge; obituary notices at 10 cents per line.

BUSINESS CARDS

F. H. LEE, M. D.

OFFICE and residence, Main Street, Canaan, Conn. Telephone.

WM. THOS. OWENS, M. D.

Canaan (over Camp's Drug Store) and East (Ausable).

Local Telephone.

G. L. HURD, D. D.

OFFICE in Roberts' Block, Lakeville, Conn., Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Sharon, Thursdays.

J. H. RORABACK,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

Notary Public.

CANAAN, CONN.

G. W. SCOVILLE,

NORFOLK, CONN.

FURNITURE DIRECTOR

AND REMOVER.

All calls left with J. B. Haskett, of South-Side, Mass., will be promptly forwarded, and shall have immediate attention.

JOHN M. MILLER,

LAKEVILLE, CONN.

HARNESS MANUFACTURER

AND REPAIRER.

Reins, Horse Blanks, Whips, Trunks, Satchels, Etc., and ALL KINDS OF HORSE FURNISHINGS.

Harness and Trunks repaired at short notice.

CANAAN SAVINGS BANK

CANAAN, CONN.

COMMENCED BUSINESS OCTOBER 1ST, 1872.

GEORGE W. COWDREY, President

DAVID L. FREEMAN, Vice-President

JOHN E. HARRIS, Treasurer

GEORGE S. FULLER, Secretary

TRUSTEES

J. W. FRET, J. A. UNDERWOOD, GEORGE L. PARSONS, GEORGE S. DUNNING, NELSON L. JACKSON.

OFFICE AT THE STORE OF Jackson & Eggleston

Bank closes on Saturdays at 12 M.

New York and Hartford Millinery Parlors.

Have just returned again from New York with another line of all the latest Novelties in Hats, Feathers, Crowns, Flowers and Ornaments.

Also a fine line of Veiling, Corded Goods, Felt, Silk Braid and Veilings.

Our Hats are cheap and effective and speak for themselves. If you wish a stylish Up-to-date Hat just give us a call.

KITTEE A. WHITE,

Warner Annex, CANAAN, CONN.

E. B. CULVER,

Embalmer and Funeral Director.

Canaan Branch in charge of GEO. VAN DEUSEN, UPHOLSTERER and CABINET MAKER.

Main St., Opposite Warner House CANAAN, CONN.

Monumental Work.

C. L. SLADE

Of Cornwall Bridge, Agent for Western

Get my prices before placing your order.

M. S. STRONG, Granville, N. Y.

(My Motto: "Good Work, Fair Dealing.")

BEATTIE & CO.,

Ashley Falls Monumental Works, ASHLEY FALLS, MASS.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company

Of Hartford, Conn.

Issues a guaranteed contract especially adapted to persons of moderate income, in which the family is protected for the full amount of the policy in the event of death at any time; and, should the insured survive to age 70, it is payable to him in cash. The payments are made in twenty years, thus completing them during the younger and stronger period of life. Also all kinds of endowment policies.

Write to

C. L. FRENCH,

Great Barrington, Mass.

LOCK BOX 1016.

State and address for illustrations of these policies.

Connecticut Western News.

PUBLISHED AT Canaan, Litchfield Co., Conn. EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

S. C. BECKLEY, Editor and Prop.

LOCAL NEWS A SPECIALTY.

TERMS:—$2.00 per year, if paid strictly in advance. If not paid at the expiration of three months $2.50 will be charged.

Subscribers desiring their papers discontinued must send notice at the expiration of their subscription; and unless otherwise directed, papers will not be discontinued save at the option of the publisher.

VOL. XXIX. CANAAN, CONN., THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1900. NO. 40.

The Corner and Leader Store

Muslin Underwear Sale.

THE PRICE OF COTTON

There has been a great advance in the price of cotton cloth. Take "Fruit of the Loom" cotton, for instance. A year ago you could buy it for 5 or 6¢; today you can't buy it for the price for less than 7¢. Just the same with all other cottons; the price is away up. This makes a big difference in the cost of making ready-made underwear, and it will be a long time before manufacturers can sell goods as cheaply as they have. But we were expecting this advance in price and bought heavily of underwear before the new prices took most, consequently the bargains which we offer you here are doubly attractive. You can't afford to let this money-saving chance go by unnoted.

Night Robes

One of our good leaders is a Night Robe made of good firm cotton with cambric ruffles at neck and sleeves and eighteen rows of tucking in yoke. We offer a few dozen of them and can get no more at the price.

We have another big bargain in a plain robe with unbordered cuff and wide collar, with 20 rows of fine tucking on each side of yoke. Very best muslin.

A bewildering assortment of Night Robes in over 70 styles, at all prices.

Drawers

We have always sustained our claim of being the largest dealers of Ready-made Underwear in Winsted. This year we have nearly doubled our stock. We offer one lot of about 400 pair of drawers in 5 different styles, plain, tucked, ruffled or lace trimmed in all sizes, either open or closed; quick sellers at.

Extra fine cambric-muslin drawers, long-sleeved and wide lace ruffles. They won't last long at.

Misses' Drawers

Best Muslin Drawers hemmed and tucked all sizes. Small sizes, 12¢; large, 18¢.

Skirts

One of our leading values in skirts is made of the very best cotton, firm, strong and fine, and has a hemstitched double ruffle of fine cambric, 18 inches wide, only.

Short Skirts

Very good cotton, wide cambric ruffle hemstitched.

Winsted, Conn.

BOER OLIVIER ESCAPES.

Gets Away Northward to Join Main Army.

A REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENT.

Worn Out Condition of French's Cavalry Horse Probably Explains the British Failure—Elements in French—England's Heavy Casualties.

London, March 28.—With his army from the south of the Free State, Commander Olivier is apparently eluding the British pursuit and making good his escape.

All the evidence goes to show that the retreating invaders of Cape Colony have practically succeeded in getting away from the British columns which it was thought would encircle and capture them. They have accomplished a long, daring and difficult flank movement in the face of a vastly superior force.

Olivier is said to have already reached "Clocan," which is near the border of Basutoland and on the road running from Ladybrand northward to Ricksburg. This is the north of the line on which French's cavalry has been operating, and the fact that the British general has returned to Bloemfontein tends to prove that his attempt to stop the progress of the Boer column was a failure.

The worn out condition of General French's horses probably had much to do with Olivier's escape.

General Clements has reached Fauresmith.

A small British force that entered Ladysmith and retreated hurriedly before a large number of Boers, who may have been part of Olivier's command. Firing has been heard at Modderpoort, which would seem to indicate that the Boers are in the neighborhood of the town.

There have been cavalry skirmishes at Lord Roberts' outposts in the Free State and General Buller's in Natal. General Buller reports that the Boers tried unsuccessfully to trap some men of the Tenth Regiment.

General Buller, who commands at Glencoe, declares, on the other hand, that he cut off an advance guard of Boers.

British Casualties.

The weekly casualty list as published today shows that the British losses will be very heavy. Wounded, 1,543; killed, 1,000; missing, 1,000. The Boer losses are estimated at a cost of not more than 3,000 lives is bound to be very much exceeded. Up to date, the British forces had lost 2,330 men killed, while 9,807 were wounded and 3,515 missing or prisoners, making a total of 15,433. To these must be added 1,000 killed in disease, or a grand total of 16,532.

These figures, however, do not make evident the actual weakening of the British army due to illness, hardships and long marches. General Macdonald, writing from Paardeberg, states that the highland brigade had at the time only 24 officers and 1,000 men fit for duty out of a total of 37 officers and 1,000 men. Hard marching, bivouacs in the open and other trials of the severe campaign had reduced the brigade's strength nearly 50 per cent.

The 6,000 men that remained of the garrison at Ladysmith are recovering very slowly from the effects of the siege. It may be weeks before they will be able to participate in any military movement.

Letters are now arriving from Ladysmith which show the desperate condition to which the garrison had come when the city was relieved. Only 1,000 men were physically fit to offer any determined resistance to the Boers at the time Lord Dundonald arrived.

Refugees from War Boers.

A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Mafeking, dated March 16, describes the humorous side of the siege. It appears that the colonials set up bottles, inviting the Boers to shoot at them and then shoot the enemy when the shots go wide. Another trick of the colonials is by persistent concertina playing to lure the Boers, excited by curiosity, to raise their heads from the trenches, when they are promptly sniped.

A detachment of colonial natives, commanded by Mackenzie, advanced to Jackal Tree fort, the position originally occupied by the siege gun on the southwestern heights, but the Boers discovered the plans and evacuated it. Previously a detachment of British troops had been dispatched against a new fort threatening our western position and succeeded in creeping up to within a few yards of the sleeping Boers outside of the fort. The Boers were then surprised by the rear of the fort. They fired three volleys and then retreated, in accordance with their instructions.

Sunday, March 11, was observed as a truce. The British troops sat on the parapets conversing with the Boers, and amiable relations were maintained until dark.

The Boers recommenced the bombardment March 12, a 6 inch gun which had been comparatively silent for a week fired the shrapnel and again tore the fort in the open. The projectiles were ineffective against cover, but were dangerous to pedestrians. One shell burst in the court-house, killing several men and wounding four persons. Several women were also slightly wounded. The steel plate of the shell passed through the hotel of the fort and spent itself beneath a table, where it was found by the British employees. Another shrapnel shell burst above the bombproof occupied by the Reuter correspondent and sprinkled the wall with bullets.

To Pay Philippine Army.

New York, March 28.—One million three hundred and three thousand dollars for the payment of Uncle Sam's soldiers in the Philippines left the subtreasury yesterday. There was $900,000 in gold coin packed in wooden boxes, each containing $20,000; the same sum in bills packed in three iron safes, and the balance, consisting of minor coin, packed in cartridge boxes. The money was landed in down Broad street under a guard of 18 soldiers, commanded by Lieutenant Moore of the regular army.

An Old Soldier's Crime.

Elkins, Va., March 28.—A messenger from Gilman, a country station six miles from here, tells of a tragedy near here. H. G. Frum, an old soldier and farmer, shot his wife twice at the home of a neighbor, then went home and shot himself three times. One shot took effect in his mouth, lodging in his brain, from which he will die. His wife is expected to recover. The couple had parted two months ago, but were reconciled on Monday. Jealousy was the cause.

Death of General Tower.

General Zealous B. Tower, U. S. A., retired, has died at Cohasset, Mass., aged 81 years. He saw active service in the Mexican and civil wars, serving with distinction in both and being retired in 1853. He was superintendent of the Military academy for a short time.

Colonel Jack Chinn to Lecture.

Colonel Jack Chinn, the devoted friend of Governor Geisel, who was with him when he was shot, has announced that he will shortly take to the lecture platform.

RUSSIA IN TURKEY.

Report That the czar is Menacing the Sultan.

London, March 28.—The Standard gives double headed prominence to the following special dispatch from Odessa: "There can be no longer any doubt as to the object of the warlike preparations now being completed in south Russia. Nearly 250,000 troops have already been mobilized for active service, and the Black sea squadron, with transports, is held in instant readiness."

The tension in the relations between St. Petersburg and the sublime porte becomes every day more acute. The position is looked upon with the greatest apprehension.

"If the Ottoman government, supported by Germany, should prove stubbornly intractable with regard to Russia's concessions in Asia Minor, serious complications must inevitably ensue."

"The Russian garrisons in the Caucasus and along the Armenian frontier are being put on a war footing and equipped for active service."

New York Primaries.

New York, March 28.—Former Leader John C. Sheehan was defeated last night at the Tammany primaries of the Ninth district. Abraham Gruber repulsed the opposition and won the seat. E. Quigg and George C. Austin in the Republican primaries of the Twenty-first assembly district. Captain F. Norton Goldwater, delegate to the Republican national convention, his victory and that of Mr. Gruber were body blows to Leman E. Quigg, chairman of the Republican county committee. Captain Goldwater was hailed last night as Quigg's successor at the head of the county organization. There were no contests in the other districts of this borough except the tickets put up by the other of the party machines. Senator Coffey won the fight against the regular Democratic organization in the Ninth assembly district of Brooklyn.

HILLIS HEADS OFF FOES

Offers to Withdraw From Chicago Presbytery.

HIS TEACHINGS OBJECTED TO.

Denunciation of Article in Confession of Faith Causes Indignation. His Congregation Supports Him. Statement by Mr. Shearman.

New York, March 28.—The Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, has offered to withdraw from the Chicago presbytery on account of the criticisms made by members of the presbytery of his sermon last Sunday. Late last evening Dr. Hillis sent a letter to the Rev. Dr. Gray, editor of The Interior and a member of the Chicago presbytery, saying that if serious exceptions were taken to the views expressed in the sermon he would resign in the interest of peace and harmony.

Four leading members of the presbytery, who are also connected with the McCormick Theological seminary at Chicago, from which institution Dr. Hillis was graduated, have virtually charged him with heresy in dealing with the subject of future punishment. He refuses to withdraw a word of what he said in the sermon. As pastor of Plymouth church, Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is not amenable to any body except the congregation, which is disposed to sustain him.

Dr. Hillis' sermon was in part a denunciation of the article in the Presbyterian Confession of Faith which declares that "by the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting death." In the course of his sermon Dr. Hillis said:

"The day the scholastics wrote that chapter in the Confession of Faith they got the devil confused with God. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it. I would rather shake my fist in the face of the devil than of God. One reason for calling him the devil is because he is the enemy of God's kingdom, and the work of the devil is to destroy it."

Church of Hillis is